

THE PARASITE PARTY

SEND THEM PACKING WITH THE ULTIMATE EVICTION NOTICE

Monsters live inside us; they feed off our bodies. How many of you realize that parasites control our thoughts, moods, urges, addictions and emotions? Yes, they wreck not only your health but also your closest relationships, the ones you have with yourself and the relationships you have with others around you. Parasites steal from us, throw up in us, poop in us, breed in us, feed on us and starve us by stealing our nutrition and vital energy.

Parasites affect every living human. But know this, every human being can lead a totally healthy, vibrant life by incorporating the Perfect Day Lifestyle. Just know you could be exercising, eating healthy foods, taking vitamins and doing all these great things for yourself, but parasites don't care. They look for your weakest link, which usually is an addictive low vibrational habit; examples of this are sugar, alcohol, prescription drugs and chronic depression, just to name a few.

When I was 28 years old, I was the director of the North American Colon Therapy Association. You wouldn't believe what I saw coming out of my patient's large intestine while doing colonics. You can create a 'Perfect Day Lifestyle' or continually try to scare these parasitic predators out the back door, front door or any other orifice that's not jammed up. Understand, this is not just a third-world problem; everybody has parasites, but who controls them is the million-dollar question.

When you finally realize what health really is, it is easy to recognize those people who do not live a high-vibrational lifestyle on an emotional and/or physical level. If you believe it's time for a parasite cleanse, you will always need one. The true cure for this parasite pandemic is incorporating the 'Perfect Day' into your lifestyle. Your lifestyle must become the cure you search for... Now, let's get back to this Parasite Party.

Parasites are persistent, they're dangerous and they're deadly! They've been around for millions of years, just like the cockroach. They know what they're doing and live inside of 99% of the population because they strategize their every move. You might want to consider doing the same thing; those who strategize always win the day.

We're constantly being exposed to these slithering, poisonous critters. These parasites will continue to live inside everyone who thinks parasite cleanses are needed, but not a vibrational shift on an emotional, mental, physical and nutritional level. When you feed the spirit, you heal the body; bring your vibration higher than these low vibrational critters, and you will send them packing forever.

REAL SCIENCE & REAL HEALING

Protection from parasites comes from the integrity of the electrical force field from your bodily fluids, cells, tissues, muscles, bones and organs daily. Become the field. Your electrical vibrational frequency and the integrity of your physical inner terrain will always be the deciding factor on how well you live, how long you live and what lives in you. Let's talk about how your stomach, which is the guard dog at the front door of the highway of life, loses its deadly bite on parasites on an emotional and physical level. Your stomach is your first line of defense for your digestive tract.

On a physical level, the majority of the population has lost the art of food combining, diluting their stomach acid and its digestive juices. For most people, every meal is a buffet of over-eating, and to add more fuel to the fire, the majority swallow their food in chunks... little do they realize that there is not a second set of teeth in their stomach. Remember, the smaller the particle, the easier it is to digest, assimilate, and eliminate. Your food either breaks down naturally in your stomach or breaks you down by rotting, which leads to a Parasite Party. What about the people who wash their food down because they are so dehydrated eating their meals? This also dilutes the integrity of the stomach's digestive juices. Digest or Rot.

On an emotional level, the majority of the population has never been in control of their thoughts, which undermines the whole digestive tract, tying it up in knots. Never forget, the psychological rules the biological; the invisible makes and shapes the physical. Here are a couple of examples for you to digest... "I can't stomach this; you make me sick to my stomach; my stomach is in knots, and I feel like I need to throw up."

Either you stop swallowing all this B.S. they force feed us with, otherwise, dysfunctional Belief Systems by erasing and replacing your beliefs or take a look at 'Therapeutic Vomiting,' or you will be left with a guard dog with no bite.

Weak HCL (Hydrochloric Acid) and digestive juices in the stomach will open the door to a parasitic attack of the worst kind. If the HCL and digestive juices become too weak, the parasitical attacks will be strong and even deadly for those with a compromised immune system. People with healthy digestive juices in their stomach will kill and digest all parasites before they can pass through the stomach valve (pyloric sphincter) and into the small intestine. A healthy stomach has an acidic pH, and the small intestine has an alkaline pH, which is not prepared for a parasitic invasion. Issues in the tissues always begin as emotional self-poisoning first. Just know that the word 'Autoimmune Disease' means the body is attacking itself, but what causes this in the first place is an 'unconscious emotional self-attack program ingrained within the subconscious mind.' Welcome to the Program. Welcome to the Herd.

When you are emotionally upset, you throw your body into flight, fight, fright mode. When this happens, your body transfers 70% of your blood supply, otherwise your energy, to your legs and arms so that you may either run away from the Tiger or run head-on into battle with it. But where the problem lies with the majority (herd) of the population is that 99% of the time, their trauma drama is not even real; it's made up, but the mind is not capable of telling the difference. When this happens, our immune system and digestive tract totally shut down to deal with the perceived crisis, leaving us unprotected and wide open to a parasite invasion. The longer it takes you to get back into alignment, the more you risk being attacked by predators of all sorts and sizes.

As I stated earlier, there are many different types of parasites, but the deadliest of all is the two-legged species. More people die at the hands of these two-legged psycho parasites than from any other predator. They have used 'FEAR' as their weapon of choice against us from the beginning of time. Seventy-five years ago, people would go into a flight, fight, freeze mode an average of 3 times a week. Pre Covid, 17 times a day, and then Post Covid, an average of 120 times per day. Do you know what the insane downside of anger or intense drama/trauma situations can do to your body? It will take your body at least seven hours to recalibrate hormonally and biochemically from this emotional chaos. And what does this mean for you? This means you are dumping high cortisol levels into your body for seven hours... Seven hours! With your head in the fog... Seven hours! With the inability for your immune function and defend you against parasitical attack... Seven hours. These parasitic invaders will attack when you are at your weakest point, 'emotionally and physically.'

You must learn to connect to your Lion Heart Breath, wear a slight smile and process everything first and foremost through your heart. Protect your vibrational frequency and F. L. Y.
First... Love... Yourself... Beautiful BraveHeart.

Let's now talk about the Medical System's greatest breakthrough, the one that's now breaking down the 'immune system' of every Nation worldwide... Antibiotics... the bacterial time bomb! Antibiotics should only be taken in life-threatening situations because they will eventually cause 'life-threatening situations'. Don't get me wrong, antibiotics will kill harmful bacteria but also damage and even kill the good bacteria, which comprise 85% of a human's immune system. You have 50 trillion cells, but did you know you have 500 trillion bacteria that love and protect you? We are programmed to attack the most precious community, the microbiome, our bacterial family. Remember what I stated earlier, 'the bug is nothing, your inner terrain is everything' when it comes to healing and remaining vibrantly healthy for a lifetime. So, to remain healthy, we must protect our vibrational frequency on all levels if we wish for a happy and healthy parasite-free existence.

Let's talk about the importance of what we nourish ourselves with. What do you think is the most important food group? The answer... Whatever has the 'highest vibrational frequency.' So from now on, when you drink or eat anything, ask yourself these critical questions: Will this food nourish or poison me?... What type of vibrational frequency will this substance leave in my body's tissues? Understand that all food and drink leave the body; only the light and frequency remain within you. Yes, even what you read, watch and who you hang around with matters! Protect not just your internal vibrational frequency but also your external one, this being your 'force field.'

Now let's get back to the almighty MEDICAL bug killer... antibiotics. So, seeing that everything has a vibrational frequency, where do you think antibiotics vibrate? Below zero! Now you have the answer to what is worse than sugar for manifesting a complete parasite invasion in the holy grail of the human body, your large intestine.

Let me explain why life and death begin in the large intestine (colon); here it is in a nutshell. Let's say you have an earache and the doctor gives you an antibiotic for it, which makes no sense to me, but let's talk about it; you swallow the antibiotic and then it travels over thirty feet through your digestive tract and then, like a bomb, it destroys the harmful bacteria but also decimates the good bacteria as well. This story does not end here.

Did you know we all have yeast living inside our large intestines to help us remain healthy? Well, guess what? When the antibiotic bomb went off in the large intestine, it changed the yeast into a fungus. Some of you know this as Candida Albicans. Remember when I said that antibiotics vibrate below zero? Well,, what did the antibiotics just do? They activated the 'death vibe'... Oops. Have you ever seen a tree when it starts to die? Fungus eats holes through it to recycle it. When it comes to human beings and the negative side effects of antibiotics, the fungus will start eating pinholes in the large intestine, which is why this type of fungus is called the drill bit predator. The inside lining of the large intestine is comprised of a one-cell thick lining called tight junctions, which become similar to a screen door in a submarine after an antibiotic explosion occurs in the large intestine. This is the root cause and beginning of almost all autoimmune diseases, which healthcare calls 'leaky gut.' But in actual fact, there is no leaky gut; it's a leaky large intestine. What do you think this does to the tissue integrity and the vibrational frequency of this precious organ, known as the holy grail of the human body?

Total devastation due to a systemic parasitic invasion into the blood because your large intestine is now like a screen door in a submarine. Now there's an evil Medical plot, and now we rot. It's time for a quiz. What happens to 80% of all the antibiotics made in North America? They are fed to all the animals you eat that are raised in factory farms. Know your enemy! They say it's called health prevention, but it's actually to prevent you from staying healthy. We are so naive. Know your farmer!

How would you like to be a Medical Doctor, and the only health strategies you have or are permitted to use are based on cut, poison, and burn? Most of these medical practices were born out of Nazi Germany by a company you may know as 'Bayer' who also owns Monsanto... Wake Up World. People will fall for any story if it's told long enough, strong enough, and government-approved. Think about this: Antibiotics are prescribed for almost everything, from a problem with your nose all the way down to your toes. The whole world's been numbed out and dumbed down. Give me an infection, and I will give a strategy that will work quicker with no harmful side effects; that's my guarantee because it's only natural. Antibiotics are today's primary weapon to undermine the majority (herd) of the population's immune system. We're being sold off by the pound by Corporate America.

Attacking or trying to kill the bad bug/parasite is a revolving door of rinse and repeat because the lack of tissue integrity creates the lowered vibrational frequency that allows these parasites to breed and feed once again. Trying to kill the parasite by continually poisoning it will permanently harm the host; that would be you. It is much better to create an environment where these worms cannot exist; create an unbearable high vibrational frequency and give them their final eviction notice... send them packing for good. All chronic negative body symptoms and diseases indicate parasitic infestation from bad or damaged bacteria, fungi, and worms. And know, the worse your symptoms are, the more worms you have and the more issues you have in your tissues. Let's discuss the Domino Effect of manifesting worms from your toes to your nose. The best place to start this little horror story is at the beginning... where the real truth can be found.

Do you know or understand the art of Body Talk? This is our most important language of all and is based on feeling, not thinking. Do you realize that a 'symptom' is a message of love from your body, that 'this particular body part' is out of alignment, otherwise, vibrationally out of harmony? When your body is in a state of harmony, you are at ease and when your body is not in a state of harmony, you are in a state of dis-ease. It's as simple as that. The symptom, this being the message sent from the body, is always a vibrational warning before it becomes a physical condition known as a disease.

So first, we have a gentle message of love from the body that tells us we are out of alignment on an emotional, physical, or nutritional level and to take notice. Still, we have been programmed to ignore/disrespect this message. This message of love from your body soon becomes what the majority calls a 'chronic symptom,' which we still ignore, by trying to suppress it with food-like products, alcohol, toking, or prescription drugs until we're completely numbed out. Now that we are drugged up, dumb-ed down and numbed out from feeling any symptoms (messages of love), we enter what's called the gut-brain disconnection but just know this: the fire that you no longer feel inside keeps raging on in silence... which is called inflammation... which begins the Domino Effect of tissue and body fluid degeneration; AKA, dehydration and tissue rotting. The more inflammation you have, the more deficient your immune system becomes and the more depleted your energy. And what about the lack of circulation from these physical blocks you're creating due to the displaced calcium and massive internal scar tissue formation from this out-of-control inflammation nation?

So the fire keeps raging until your symptoms become worse, and now these messages of love are being medically upgraded to an Autoimmune Disease. Like any other relationship, the body starts yelling and screaming... in its own language of pain, redness, inflammation, stiffness and swelling, known as your body's GPS warning system. When your body's tissues and fluids begin losing their vitality, your internal light dims and the vibrational frequency lowers along with your immune system, which triggers a full parasitological invasion. You can turn illness on or off with a frequency, yes, and even cancer. Speaking about cancer, some believe it's caused by a worm or a fungal problem, but like every other disease, it's a deficiency of light and a high vibrational frequency that causes the lack of oxygen, which causes the cell to mutate into a lactic acid and sugar diet. Just know that internal and external vampires only prey on the weak and vulnerable; otherwise, they are the low-hanging fruit. The invisible always creates the physical. Remember, your vibration is everything... it makes you and shapes you. You are an electrical light energy being; you come as a spirit, and you leave as a spirit. Feed the spirit and you heal the body.

Isn't it odd how the Medical System and even the Natural Healthcare System are always trying to kill the worm, the fungus, and the harmful bacteria? Only to end up with the same result, rinse and repeat... the revolving door of insanity... always follow the money, and it will lead you to the two-legged parasites.

Unless you do something different, like the 'Perfect Day Lifestyle', these unwanted guests will always crawl back inside you or be created by you. You are their breeding ground until your Inner Terrain vibrates higher than these worms. As long as you are continually experiencing negative symptoms in your body, otherwise, your body cries for help; these invaders will permanently make you their meal ticket.

A time-tested, proven strategy of gentle, Self Loving Steps repeated daily from the moment you rise until you close your eyes is the only true cure to ending this vicious cycle of toxic infestation. You are the only answer to this parasitological cancer. Or we can follow in the footsteps of the medical system and try to poison these worms into leaving the body or by killing them only to have their dead carcasses rotting inside of us like dead soldiers on the battlefield. Only Big Pharma benefits from this internal war. Going to war (cut, poison, burn) with your inner terrain will only create low vibrational toxic tissue that will continue to allow these worms back in like a welcome mat.

Or you can take the natural route with colonics and herbal parasite cleanses, but this only temporarily brings up the vibrational integrity of the tissues. In contrast, when you integrate and build the Perfect Day Lifestyle into your subconscious programming, you will permanently create and maintain an impenetrable environment unsuitable for these toxic parasitic worms or any other low vibrational critter. Let's review this scientific fact with some examples: the vitality of your body's inner environment dictates who and what lives there. Remember that you're made up of approximately 50 Trillion cells, 500 Trillion bacteria, and many species of beneficial worms, yeast and fungi. This should be the first and most important community that you love, honor, respect, and protect from yourself and those who wish to feed off you.

Millions of life-giving microbes and cells have come together to provide you with a beautiful vehicle called your body, so love with all your heart or be programmed like the majority and live in hell. The Medical theory of cut, poison, and burn; otherwise, let's kill the bacteria, the fungus, the worm, and the cancer is an archaic and abusive program. To love, honor, protect, and respect your body by increasing your vibrational frequency will fortify your tissues and is the only permanent cure. What came first, the mosquito or the swamp? To support this logical theory, go to DocOfDetoxLibrary.com and watch or read these life-saving MasterClasses:

The majority of the population has become overripe, meaning rotten to the core on a physical and emotional level (stinking thinking) without even knowing it. Welcome to 'Herd Mentality'. The majority of the population is known by these Psycho Manipulators (two-legged parasites) as the low-hanging fruit (useless eaters) because of their unconscious low vibrational lifestyle. So what happens to the external environment of fruit when it becomes overripe, otherwise a low vibrational frequency? Well, in this case, fruit flies. Where did they come from?

They were created by a low vibrational frequency coming from the rotting fruit. The invisible always creates the visible; this is a universal law. The majority of the population is unaware of the fact that they are the creators of these internal parasites due to a corrupt invisible frequency coming from their stinking thinking, toxic body fluids, tissues and organs. You will only find parasitic worms where the fluids of the body have become a swamp, and the tissues of the body are decomposing, this is what the medical system calls a disease, and I call it misinformation and long-term toxic treatments.

As I stated earlier, there are no diseases; these are just chronic symptoms of misinformation and incorrect treatment that start off in the body as messages of love from your body, known as Body Talk. Body Talk is your body telling you that you are out of alignment, otherwise, no longer in a harmonious state due to a low vibrational lifestyle, which eventually creates a lack of tissue integrity (rotting), which opens the door and rolls out the welcome mat for a parasitic take down. Anything that is sick or dying has a very low vibrational frequency, meaning it lacks any real energy; otherwise, Life Force Immunity. The most important thing to protect is your vibrational frequency on an emotional, physical, mental and nutritional level. Who would've thought that Chronic depression, anger, or sadness could create worms? Wake up. The invisible has always created the physical; the psychological has always ruled the biological. This is similar to the fact that all diseases, yes even cancer, is not genetic but epigenetic. Thoughts create matter. When will your thoughts matter because they create matter? When will you matter? Mind your Business; otherwise, mind your thoughts; better still, change your thoughts, change your life, and heal your body.

Here's another example: the bug is nothing, and the inner terrain is everything. Life and death begin in the large intestine (colon). The majority of the population is worm-infested, and it begins in the large intestine, which is the almighty compost garden of bacterial immunity of the body. However, the large intestine becomes a stagnant worm-infested manure pile of dis-ease for most. The health care field calls this leaky gut, which, by the way, is the root cause of all autoimmune diseases (BOOM).

Your core (abdomen/pelvis) is everything, but the most crucial organ of the core is your large intestine (colon), which makes up 85% of your immune system (bacteria). The deciding factor of your large intestines' health is the percentage of good bacteria to harmful bacteria. To live a vitally healthy, vibrant life without the attack of worms or other predators, you need a minimum of 85% good bacteria and a maximum of 15% bad bacteria. The majority of the population is struggling with the opposite, with 15% good bacteria and 85% bad bacteria, which does not add up to a very good outcome. Health today is upside down and backwards, and I'll tell you why.

Because the majority have what's called functional illness where normal is abnormal and drugs are called medicine. When your bacteria are out of balance, your large intestine becomes a parasite party, and a leaky gut is the gateway to systemic parasite infiltration of the body. And just know this: You can't have one parasite without all the others (worms, fungi, bacteria). Welcome to the parasite party. Guess who's coming to dinner. Guess who's having you for dinner. I bet you don't know that 95% of your cravings are coming from all your babies, saying feed me, feed me. And you thought it was you who had that snack attack. Nope, it was the fungus and the worms.

Let's talk about what happens when you have a traffic jam at your body's back door. Rectum almost killed him. And know this, just because traffic is coming into the city, it can still be backed up for miles and miles.

Let's talk about the personal manure pile pandemic. Have you ever gone to a farm and seen a manure pile? When fecal waste becomes stagnant, whether on the farm or down in your belly, it will breed bad bacteria, fungus, and worms, and it will be smelly. But it does not end here. The creation of hot toxic gas from this personal manure pile is blowing up the majority of the population literally and physically; welcome to the puffball generation of water retention, bad breath, gum disease, heart attack, fart attack and let's not forget those smelly armpits and groins. When the holy grail of health, your large intestine looks like, feels like, and smells like garbage, you can expect worm infestation. Heck, expect a Parasite Party.

As I stated earlier, Life and Death begin in the large intestine. Just because the Medical System has been taught to totally disrespect this organ with the cut, poison, and burn trio, wake up, for God's sake. You need to learn that your good bacteria are the master key to set you free from dis-ease. They are your second brain. When you eat bad, your bacteria go bad, then your moods get bad, and then you eat bad, and so goes the revolving door of insanity. So, let's talk about the side effects of having your own personal manure pile. So let's say I put a manure pile in my living room and remove all the harmful bacteria, fungus, and worms. Then I proceeded to lock the doors and windows plus duct tape every nook and cranny so nothing could get in or out. What do you think I would find in that manure pile by the next day? You guessed it, they're back. Change your thoughts to change the quality of your inner terrain to create a higher vibrational frequency, and you change your health to heal your body.

We do not have accurate, consistent, reliable, reproducible tests to find parasites in people's bodies. How do you know if you have parasites? Let's go through a few of the widespread symptoms. But know this: your body's GPS is your best test. You know when you got this.

- Constipation. Parasites release an enzyme in your gut that slows down your gut's volatility, which means they can feed on your food longer and create a better breeding ground.
- Bloating or stomach pain.
- Rectal itching.
- Sinus congestion. Parasitic in nature. Because parasites disrupt the immune system, you become allergic to everything in the air: all the trees, bees, and everything out there.
- Headaches. Sinus headaches, specifically, are a common symptom.
- TMJ. If you have issues with clenching your jaw, TMJ problems, pain in the jaw, or grinding your teeth.
- Skin issues. Any rash, itching, feeling like your skin is crawling like something is on your leg, but you don't see it. There is an underlying parasitic risk if you have issues with eczema or psoriasis.
- Issues nail biting. Disrupting the immune system.
- White marks on nails. This indicates a Zinc deficiency; generally, parasites are consuming your zinc.
- Fatigue & Anemia. Indicating low iron; parasites are a common cause of Iron deficiency.
- Recurring infections (Bacterial infections, yeast infections, fungal infections). Most 'health' practitioners will go after the bacteria, and these infections will always come back without going after the root cause, which is the parasites and their environment. Parasites will fool you with other infections. Do not be fooled or distracted by these other symptoms.
- Sleep issues. If you don't sleep, you cannot heal.

Parasites are very intelligent. Their job is to stay alive. Your job is to reclaim your inner terrain and send them packing for good!

If any of these symptoms are present, a parasite cleanse will help to relieve you temporarily of these invaders, but just know until you incorporate the Perfect Day Lifestyle into your life on an emotional, physical, and mental level, this parasitic problem will remain a revolving door of hide and seek. Here is the Perfect Day Parasite Elimination Tissue Regeneration Protocol.

Suppose one person in the family has parasites. In that case, they will share it with everyone else unless the vibrational frequency is high enough that the parasite refuses to enter the vibrational field of another host. This is the invisible force field called your vibrational frequency, which is the essence of life. Now, that's real science. Follow the real science, not the worm.

A quote by Louis Pasteur says, "The bug is nothing, the Inner Terrain Is Everything." It's always been about the issues in those tissues, those invisible bonds that bind you, blind you and undermine you. This is something that we all need to take very seriously because only one out of every hundred people are worm free. Do not follow the herd and do some real research. Become a Health Wealth detective. Parasite poisoning is not science fiction but it is a recurring nightmare for the majority of the population. Ignorance is not bliss; in this case, it's deadly. It's time to raise your vibrational frequency on all levels. 3 2 1 You Got This!
